Personal Summary

I consider myself to be an enthusiastic, ambitious and professional individual who sets targets high and will consistently work towards any goal to the best of my ability. I am currently in my third year at Manchester Metropolitan University studying website development and along the way have been involved in managing digital projects, user experience design and building successful websites for clients. In addition to this, I regard myself as having excellent communication and interpersonal skills which I have developed throughout my 4 years of experience in designer boutiques such as Fred Perry, Vilebrequin and French Connection.

Key Attributes

- Professional – Work towards success and produce the highest standard of work possible through my time at university and previous work experience.
- Interpersonal skills – Perfected this after 4 years of experience in retail.
- Positive attitude – Upbeat mind-set and have the energy to get things done.
- Organisational skills – Developed through academic studies.
- Programming languages – HTML, CSS, JavaScript, AJAX and JSON.
- Computer literate – Effective use of Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, Excel.
- Passionate about IT and enjoy all things tech related.
- Willingness to learn and improve as an individual.

Education

Manchester Metropolitan University (2015-2018)

Currently studying towards a degree in (BSc) Website Development. (Expected: 1st)
